I'm very disappointed that the Illinois EPA chose to oppose these rules despite that they didn't acknowledge the hundreds of community members who shared why and how these rules would make their lives better. Hundreds of people submitted comments in support of these rules including teachers, students, public health professionals, parents, people with lung conditions like asthma and COPD, electric vehicle owners, and more.

It is imperative that we move off fossil fuels as soon as possible, and Illinois can be a leader in reaching these important goals for clean energy. We need to convert to clean energy sources as quickly as possible.

I urge the Illinois Pollution Control Board to listen to the hundreds of concerned residents who've engaged in this process in hopes that Illinoisans can enjoy cleaner air. Ask them to adopt the clean vehicle standards.
