

STRICKEN BY THE BOARD, 11/7/13

Therriault, John

From: Ted Tiberi <ttiberi@aridtech.com>
Sent: Wednesday, November 06, 2013 11:27 AM
To: McGill, Richard
Cc: Therriault, John
Subject: Fwd: Man lights wife on fire at gas station

Dear Mr. McGill,

One implication that has often been overlooked from removal of Stage II vapor recovery is reduced SAFETY to the refueling motorist; not only from ingestion of invisible vapor emissions, but from flash fires caused by horseplay at the pump.

As an example of a recent occurrence of such a tragic event in Georgia ; please see the link below.

Is the reported $3,000 per month in savings worth the impact to the young woman in the video ?

Regards, Ted

Ted Tiberi
ARID Technologies, Inc.
323 S. Hale Street
Wheaton, IL 60187 USA
office: 630.681.8500
mobile: 708.557.0297
ttiberi@ARIDtech.com

From: Michael Heffernan <heffernanmike@aol.com>
Date: November 6, 2013 at 6:36:06 AM CST
To: Mike Heffernan <mheffernan@aridtech.com>
Subject: Man lights wife on fire at gas station

Check out this article from USA TODAY:

Man lights wife on fire at gas station

STRICKEN BY THE BOARD, 11/7/13

<http://usat.ly/1hhEzFC>