Yes. I looked up the information on its reason for cancellation and it said, "DD Form 836 should be canceled as this form has been removed from the DTR and it has been replaced by the DD Form 2890."

Subject: [Non-DoD Source] Question about DoD Forms Management

A diligent search of your website did not locate a copy of DD Form 836. This form is used in a USEPA regulation for waste military munitions. See 40 C.F.R. § 266.203(c) (2017). My search did find DD Form 2890, which seems to serve the same function as did DD Form 836. My searches did not verify whether this is so. Has DD Form 2890 replaced DD Form 836 in use?

I am engaging in cleanup and updates to various rules, and replacing references to DD Form 836 with references to DD Form 2890 may be a necessary update. Please confirm or deny my supposition.

Don Brown: Please place this e-mail in the docket for R17-15 RCRA Subtitle C update. We can later replace this e-mail with any response I receive.
