Hello,

Thank you for your comments, which will be included as an exhibit with the hearing record. The Agency will prepare a responsiveness summary that will include a summary of all the views, significant comments, criticisms, and suggestions - in addition to the Agency's specific response and final action. You will be notified of the final decision in this matter and of the availability of the responsiveness summary.

Thanks,

Jeffrey J. Guy

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shut-down in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? Subject: [External] Please Reject General Iron's Permit to Move to Chicago's Southeast Side!

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shut-down in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Hello,

Thank you for your comments, which will be included as an exhibit with the hearing record. The Agency will prepare a responsiveness summary that will include a summary of all the views, significant comments, criticisms, and suggestions - in addition to the Agency's specific response and final action. You will be notified of the final decision in this matter and of the availability of the responsiveness summary.

Thanks,

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shut-down in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shutdown in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shutdown in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shutdown in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

As a retired Air Pollution Health Specialist that has worked on projects (regulatory and research) with the IL EPA, IL Dept. of Public Health and the University of Chicago, I am seriously concerned about the air pollution health impacts, both individually and cumulatively from numerous area industries, as well as numerous air pollutants.

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shutdown in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

There are lots of places along the canal to put General Iron. NOT IN A COMMUNITY WHERE PEOPLE HAVE TO BREATHE ITS TOXIC DISCHARGES! Like many thousands of people, I protested against the petcoke dust arising from the Koch and Beemsterboer terminals. General Iron is more of the same.

They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

I live in the neighborhood they have been polluting and when they are operating, you can smell and taste it in the air, as well as watch the air quality be negatively affected on the gauges. This cannot just be moved to another area. Particularly, an area that is already so abused by environmental polluters. Air pollution harms our health. No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shutdown in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, especially not in the midst of coronavirus. Hasn't this shown us that we humans (and all living beings) have enough struggles and should not push for more; haven't we learned Something?!

Illinois must step up to stop General Iron, a serial polluter and environmental law violator, from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

As I'm sure you know, the Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side is a BLM and Latinx Community injustice, an economic injustice, a potentially immediate danger to the people in the community, and a longer-term environmental danger to all living beings.

As this would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and an inevitable health danger for all Illinoisans, the Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

No community should have to bear the burden of air pollution at any time, but as coronavirus rates are skyrocketing in Chicago's Latinx community, Illinois must step up to stop polluters like General Iron from compounding the problem in Chicago's Southeast neighborhood. That's why I urge you to reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side!

General Iron is a serial polluter that has consistently violated environmental law, with a fire in 2015, a city-ordered shut-down in 2016, and a citation for air pollution in 2018. They have shown time and again that they cannot and will not adhere to environmental rules and regulations. What makes you think that a move to the Southeast side will be any different? They have not shown themselves worthy of the public's trust.

The Illinois legislature requires that no segment of the population, regardless of race, national origin, age, or income, should bear disproportionately high or adverse effects of environmental pollution. Moving the General Iron facility to Chicago's southeast side would do just that.

Taking this into account with General Iron's track record of pollution, granting this permit to General Iron would be a gross violation of the mission of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side.

Jeffrey Guy,

I am writing you as a concerned resident of Chicago's East Side neighborhood. I have lived here for the past 19 years and with every year, more and more environmental racism has been uncovered by our area residents. Poor air quality caused by industrial pollutants can be seen via resident health issues, engulfing foul smells that meet our noses as soon as one steps out or opens a window and a visible film of black ash strewn about our homes, parked cars and outdoor furniture. All of these effects from other area industries make it clear that they do not respect our community enough to enact stricter regulations. Perhaps, that is the reason both you and General Iron believed it would go unnoticed as we are not as visible or predominantly white as the precious Lincoln Park neighborhood. Only through litigation, have slight changes been forced upon these abusive industries. Knowing how much this community has already been environmentally abused, it is imperative you revisit your decision to give General Iron a permit to open immediately next to an already vulnerable population. I find it unethical that you would allow such a company with such a poor record to continue its environmental chokehold on Chicago in one of its most marginalized minority neighborhoods.

Jeff,

Do not allow the move of General Iron to the East side. We already have enough factories, pollutants, and lead in our neighborhood. Stop risking our health for profit. I have lived here my whole life and growing up with a disproportionate amount of factories right next door has made me quiet aware of the "subtle" intention of subjecting already marginalized communities to health issues that cause long term damage rather than immediate, liable sicknesses. How much more pollutants will you pump in our air for the sake of making a buck? As long as we aren't white people with money and power to hold over your heads and force you to move through their prioritized voices, then putting General Iron here would be easy, quick, quiet, since our neighborhood is already so buried in smog. Enough is enough. Don't continue the cycle of oppressing minority neighborhoods through environmental racism.

Think it through, Citlalli Garcia

Jeffrey Guy

I oppose that General Iron be allowed to further pollute and physically harm the residents in the Chicago East side. This is environmental racism. I have lived here for almost 20 years. I am physically active and walk in the forest preserve daily. The trees have become sparse and bare. Why? There is black ash on my cars, not dust, black ash. Why? Since the pandemic started, I have been wearing my mask when I'm out and I actually don't feel congested or short of breath. Why? Something is wrong with the air we are breathing in our neighborhood. Many elderly and young children make up our population. Just their age makes them at risk to certain illnesses and can compromise their immune systems. Have you collected any medical statistics, especially cancers and pulmonary diseases? It is unethical to not protect the lives of this neighborhood. There are already other industries that are dumping pollution. Again, this is racism. Marginalized groups of people live in this area.

Dear Hearing Officer Jeff Guy,

It is unacceptable that a bunch of white people in lincoln park can cry about general iron so it'll simply pick up and move to an area where people of color have to deal with it. At a time when we are talking so much about white privilege, this is an example to exactly that.

The Illinois EPA must reject General Iron's permit and stop their move to the Southeast side. If it's not good enough for Lincoln Park, it's not good enough for any other neighborhood.

Dear Mr. and Mr.

We would like to add our voices to the public comments regarding the relocation of General Iron from Lincoln Park to the South East side. We are residents of the South Shore community and Rita has worked as a pediatric nurse on the south side of Chicago for 40 years. We have read extensively about this subject and have the follo wing comments:

1. No matter what anyone says or promises, this type of business will add to the environmental pollution in the air, water and soil in the area.

2. The rates of asthma and other chronic respiratory illnesses in the communities immediately surrounding the proposed site of the move are already significantly higher than in the general population. In some groups, as m uch as 75% higher. The most at risk for increase in these type of chronic debilitating, life-threatening illnesses are the very young and the elderly. The relocation of General Iron to the South East side wi ll exacerbate this problem, for generations to come.

3. Approving this permit during a pandemic in the very area where the rate of morbidity and mortality from the pandemic is among the highest seems especially unwise, cruel and irresponsible.

4. The land surrounding the proposed site for General Iron relocation has been abused for decades by industry o f all types Just when it seemed there were some positive changes, these fragile improvements are being threaten ed by the proposed move of General Iron.

5. General Iron has repeatedly shown a distain and blatant disregard for the law when it comes to both safety fo r its workers and the community surrounding them. As you are aware, the latest accident at their last site just a f ew weeks ago with the very equipment that General Iron uses to monitor what pollutants they are emitting into t he environment was destroyed in an explosion, causing yet more pollution. The fines companies such, as Gener al Iron, pay when they break the law are minimal and therefore wholly inadequate to serve as any kind of punis hment or deterrent. General Iron has no incentive to change their behavior, and they will continue to put profit before anything else.

The orchestration of this plan, and continued manipulation of the structural systems by the power brokers backing this move to ensure that it comes to completion is the very definition of institutional racism. We are not sure what factors the IEPA is allowed to take into consideration when making the decision on whether to award this permit, but it is our hope that the people charged with making the decision honor the true mission of the IEPA and the wider EPA by doing the right thing for the citizens and the fragile ecosystem of this area, and not award this permit.

Respectfully,

Rita Malfeo-Klein Paul E. Klein 7321 S. South Shore Drive, Unit 11A Chicago, IL 6649 708-302-2274

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group Is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

My name is Boad Hasser and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

My name is Brad Taylor and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for Fluid-Aire Dynamics, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-ofhousehold jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

Minombre es GUADAIUPE GARIA y estoy escribiendo para expresar mi apoyo a Reserve Management Group y la construcción de General III, LLC en 11600 S. Burley Avenue en el lado sureste de Chicago.

La industria del reciclaje de metales mantiene grandes cantidades de artículos obsoletos fuera de los vertederos y fuera de las calles de la ciudad. Un compromiso con el reciclaje también alivia el estrés sobre el medio ambiente al reducir la necesidad de material virgen en la fabricación de nuevos productos. En mi vida diaria trato de reciclar y comprar productos hechos de materiales reciclados. Empresas como General III, LLC y Reserve Management Group son partes vitales de una cadena de suministro que garantiza la disponibilidad continua de estos productos fabricados con materiales reciclados en el mercado.

Además, el Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva es un importante motor económico t sombrero ofrece cien s de bien remunerados, empleos cabeza-de-hogar. Creo que debería ser una alta prioridad mantener esos trabajos en la ciudad de Chicago en lugar de regularlos para que sean trasladados a otra ciudad o región.

Dado el papel de Reserve Management Group en el apoyo a la responsabilidad ambiental, la sostenibilidad y el crecimiento económico, quiero reiterar mi pleno apoyo a General III, LLC.

In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Ider

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

In my job working for General Ican THJ ELARIS I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

My name is Oscar Rivera and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

As an employee of a Reserve Management Group company, I am proud to make a living in the recycling industry. The work we do keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Reserve Management Group runs their operations to the highest standards of environmental compliance. We adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. General III's filter, regenerative thermal oxidizer (RTO), and scrubber will keep pollutants out of the air. They regularly water and sweep roadways and surfaces, and low speed limits are emphasized at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for Hyclfaulic Component Services. I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

As the wife to an employee of a Reserve Management Group company, I am proud my husband makes a living in the recycling industry. The work they do keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Reserve Management Group runs their operations to the highest standards of environmental compliance. We adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. General III's filter, regenerative thermal oxidizer (RTO), and scrubber will keep pollutants out of the air. They regularly water and sweep roadways and surfaces, and low speed limits are emphasized at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

In my job working for $\underline{W.S.W.J.W.S.T.M.S.T.E.R.M.AINTENAUCE}$, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

At Hey and Associates, we are proud to work with other companies that have a commitment to the environment and sustainability, especially related to water resources. Our livelihoods are dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group, who have the will and interest to design and implement projects that responsibly manage stormwater runoff.

Based on my personal experience regarding stormwater management planning and design, Reserve Management Group operations has consistently directed us to design and implement systems that exceed those that are required by current standards. Protection of water quality, as well as research, design and implementation of state-of-art treatment systems has been of the utmost concern to the leadership team. Although not required, additional measures to capture and reuse stormwater runoff were also implemented at the current site.

It is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive stormwater runoff pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

To whom it may concern,

Yes there was an explosion at the GI facility earlier this week. Just some points to THINK ABOUT.

First of all NO ONE WAS HURT, that's no accident. GI has invested millions of dollars in the safety equipment that if an unfortunate incident would happen it keep people safe. IT WORKED. THANK YOU GI.

Did you know GI has been around at this location longer than anyone reading this has been alive? Yes the neighborhood has changed and GI is getting squeezed out. I understand they have till the end of this year to wind down their operation. That only a few months away. Now with this incident the talk of shutting GI down......Come on, don't we at least have the decency to work with GI in these trying times????? It's only a few months away. It will be a sad day when they are done. They have invested in this community in ways that no one remembers or knows to the tune of 10s of Millions of dollars over their time here. They have directly and indirectly employed OVER 1000 people. Who else can say that in today's world? They have be there in good time and bad times like we are going through now. Think about if you garbage and recycling were not hauled away timely, if it didn't have a place to go? If the 1000s of trucks moving the material did not have a place to go like GI, where do you think it would be? It would be piling up on our streets like crazy. What would that be like in our lives? Now think about how essential that is to the safety of our way of life? Thank GOD there are places that deal with this stuff like GI.

In my job working for $\underline{A+W}$ $\underline{Hon} + \underline{Mcta}$ I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

In my job working for George Sollitt Construction Co., I am proud to support the recycling industry that takes scrap metal from my projects and processes this material in an environmentally safe manner. Successfully dealing with waste materials is solely dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. It also reduces the need to obtain foreign metals when we can reprocess scrap metals into re-usable materials to manufacture American made products.

Additionally, without this industry, construction projects would not be able to achieve the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification requirements that are mandated to be obtained by the State of Illinois and City of Chicago on various publicly funded construction projects.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

In my job working for Gallagher Asphalt Corporation, I am proud to support the recycling industry that takes scrap metal from my projects and processes this material in an environmentally safe manner. Successfully dealing with waste materials is solely dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. It also reduces the need to obtain foreign metals when we can reprocess scrap metals into re-usable materials to manufacture American made products.

Additionally, without this industry, construction projects would not be able to achieve the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification requirements that are mandated to be obtained by the State of Illinois and City of Chicago on various publicly funded construction projects.

My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

In my job working for George Sollitt Construction Co., I am proud to support the recycling industry that takes scrap metal from my projects and processes this material in an environmentally safe manner. Successfully dealing with waste materials is solely dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. It also reduces the need to obtain foreign metals when we can reprocess scrap metals into re-usable materials to manufacture American made products.

Additionally, without this industry, construction projects would not be able to achieve the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification requirements that are mandated to be obtained by the State of Illinois and City of Chicago on various publicly funded construction projects.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the future construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S Burley Avenue.

Throughout my 15+ years experience working together with General Iron, via my current employer Keller-Heartt Oil and previously via Lou-Bob Oil, I have observed an organization that I am proud to claim as my customer. During my visits to General Iron over these years, I have witnessed their dedication towards evolving their facility in an attempt to improve the plant's environmental status.

In preparation for General III's new facility on Chicago's Southeast side, I have been working in tandem with General Iron's Operations Team to provide lubricant tanks stored INSIDE spill-containment to eliminate opportunity for overflow. This is not a requirement by any ordinance by the City of Chicago, this is an EXTRA step that General III is taking as they lead by example towards a cleaner recycling atmosphere.

These extra environmental protocol allow me to be honored in my support as General Iron transitions to their new location.

Open letter in support of General Iron Industries remaining a Chicago institution.

To whom it may concern,

I first started doing business with General Iron in the 1980's when the company was in a growth pattern and the neighborhood was a tough but thriving industrial enclave. I recall meeting Adam Labkon and walking the property to look over his conveyor system in hopes of becoming his conveyor belt supplier. I have been proud to work with Adam and his crew ever since.

Having over 40 years in business to business experience I believe my opinion that General Iron operates with the highest integrity possible carries some weight. Out of the hundreds of industrial companies I've worked with no one has been a better business partner than General Iron under the guidance of the Labkon family. I have seen firsthand how the neighborhood has changed over the years and witnessed the extraordinary actions the company has taken to peacefully and ethically coexist with the changing dynamics.

It's my understanding that the company plans to relocate to the south side of Chicago. I don't think the decision makers at city hall should hesitate a minute in approving the move. General Iron Industries has a rich history in Chicago and are, in fact, part of the story of Chicago. Scores of business' have left the city for various reasons over the past 20-30 years.

Other states and in some cases, other countries, are happy to have these entities within their jurisdiction. General Iron is Chicago and should remain here. I urge the city officials to give the moving project their favorable attention in order to retain a great Chicago business run by some great people.

Sincerely,

John Mick C.E.O. Concept-Logic, LLC

1050 and I am writing to express my support My name is for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

ndt Corporation I am provid to make my living In my job working for working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

All Concerning Bodies,

My Name is Mike Sample and I own Operate Cedar Street Investments LLC. We have been a carrier for General Iron for 13 years. I can speak from having intimate knowledge of the recycling industry and having serviced over 40 different customers in that same time that General Iron is easily the standard of the industry. Frankly even the second tier companies are a wide margin behind their quality of operations. They are leaders of the industry. Other facilities strive to run their logistical procedures and follow their management procedures. Despite some reporting from an aggressive alderman and a progressive neighborhood those of us that know the industry know the true facts. They are proactive and deal with any issues that arise immediately but more importantly try and anticipate problems before they arise. Whether it's noise control or air quality they are very cognizant of it all. Frankly for how they have operated, the length of the operations and the bare minimal impact they have had from the location they operate that many of us feel they should be getting standard of excellence awards regularly. Look, they have graciously agreed to cease operations at the end of the year after decades of a valuable service to the community and move to a more industrial friendly operation. Please let them wind it down the way they intend. They will make sure it's done above expectations and their new location will easily be the new blue print for modern recycling. I have that kind of confidence in them and so should you.

Thank You,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

My name is Jim Olson, CEO of Riverside Engineering, and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group (RMG) and the construction of the General III, LLC facility at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

Our company has a decades long relationship with General Iron and is actively engaged in metal scrap recycling. General III and RMG play an essential role in helping local government manage their needs and responsibilities by providing a critical outlet for the recyclable materials generated within the community, without which these valuable commodities would build up and not only be lost for critical supply to manufacturers, but end up wrongfully in the waste stream.

Riverside Engineering, with GIII and RMG, are proud to be a key component in the supply chain for scrap recycling. The critically important manufacturing of Steel, Aluminum and Copper are dependent on GIII and RMG to provide essential feedstock for their operations.

Riverside's business success is dependent upon companies like General III and RMG. Our company's manufacturing, fabrication and assembly of capital equipment for the recycling industry is predominately done in Chicago. This manufacturing employs hundreds of quality, blue-collar jobs within miles of the new RMG facility.

Based on my observations, RMG/GIII operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance. They adhere to regulations and take all possible steps to be a good member of the community. These good neighbor policies have included advanced emissions control, roadways and surfaces regularly swept and watered, and RMG employees enforcing low speed yard traffic at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or similar recycling businesses.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility and the role they play in a nationally critical manufacturing sector, I want to provide my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Sincerely,

Jim-Olson, CEO, Riverside Engineering

My name is George M. TUTTLE and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for KMT TVAMSPOVT MC, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing on behalf of my company, RMT Transport, Inc., myself, and all my employees and their families. I have built a lucrative business with General Iron Industries for over the last 20+ years. I have designed my transportation company around the needs of General Iron Industries to be a specialty hauler for only General Iron Industries. General Iron Industries has been good to me, my employees', and my company over the years. I and my employees have witnessed the care that General Iron Industries uses to keep their grounds safe and well kept. By not allowing General Iron to operate fully you are not hurting just General Iron – the list goes on and on. General Iron is an upstanding business who should be treated fairly.

Sincerely,

The goal of the Reserve Management Group to "provide safe, responsible and sustainable recycling solutions for their customers and the environment". It is my opinion that the Reserve Management Group adheres to the highest standards of environmental compliance as a recycling facility, adheres to all regulations and takes all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

At Hey and Associates, we are proud to work with other companies that have a commitment to the environment and sustainability, especially related to water resources. Our livelihoods are dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group, who have the will and interest to design and implement projects that responsibly manage stormwater runoff.

Based on my personal experience regarding stormwater management planning and design, Reserve Management Group operations has consistently directed us to design and implement systems that exceed those that are required by current standards. Protection of water quality, as well as research, design and implementation of state-of-art treatment systems has been of the utmost concern to the leadership team. Although not required, additional measures to capture and reuse stormwater runoff were also implemented at the current site.

It is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive stormwater runoff pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago. It is imperative that we continue to develop and maintain a vibrant and effective businesses in the Chicago Metro Area.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. This environmentally sustainable business is critical in developing the circular economy to reduce waste and effectively recycle.

I am environmental consultant and work with many companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

y estoy escribiendo para expresar mi apoyo a Reserve Management Group y la construcción de General III, LLC en 11600 S. Burley Avenue en el lado sureste de Chicago.

La industria del reciclaje de metales mantiene grandes cantidades de artículos obsoletos fuera de los vertederos y fuera de las calles de la ciudad. Un compromiso con el reciclaje también alivia el estrés sobre el medio ambiente al reducir la necesidad de material virgen en la fabricación de nuevos productos. En mi vida diaria trato de reciclar y comprar productos hechos de materiales reciclados. Empresas como General III, LLC y Reserve Management Group son partes vitales de una cadena de suministro que garantiza la disponibilidad continua de estos productos fabricados con materiales reciclados en el mercado,

Además, el Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva es un importante motor económico t sombrero ofrece cien s de bien remunerados, empleos cabeza-de-hogar. Creo que debería ser una alta prioridad mantener esos trabajos en la ciudad de Chicago en lugar de regularlos para que sean trasladados a otra ciudad o región.

Dado el papel de Reserve Management Group en el apoyo a la responsabilidad ambiental, la sostenibilidad y el crecimiento económico, quiero reiterar mi pleno apoyo a General III, LLC.

Mi nombre es Katae FMune2 y estoy escribiendo para expresar mi apoyo a Reserve Management Group y la construcción de General III, LLC en 11600 S. Burley Avenue en el lado sureste de Chicago.

En mi trabajo que trabaja para beneg CROM, me siento orgulloso de que mi vida trabajando en y con la industria del reciclaje. Mi medio de vida depende en empresas como General III, LLC y Reserve Management Group. La industria del reciclaje mantiene grandes cantidades de artículos metálicos obsoletos fuera de los vertederos y alivia el estrés sobre el medio ambiente al reducir la necesidad de material virgen en la fabricación de nuevos productos.

Basado en mis observaciones, las operaciones del Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva se ejecutan con los más altos estándares de cumplimiento ambiental que he visto en cualquier instalación de reciclaje donde hago negocios. Se adhieren a todas las regulaciones y toman todas las medidas posibles para exceder lo que exige la ley. Las vías de acceso y las superficies se barren regularmente y regadas, y del Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva funcionarios públicos aplican l límites de velocidad flujo a su facilidad para reducir el polvo que se levantaban del suelo.

Además, entiendo que la nueva instalación propuesta tendrá controles y monitoreo de contaminación aún más completos que la operación actual o cualquier otro negocio de reciclaje similar en el área.

Dado este compromiso con la responsabilidad ambiental, quiero reiterar mi total apoyo a Reserve Management Group y General III, LLC.

My name is Mel_Son IVA and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for TWEMA, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

In my job working for SAN METALS COMPANY LLC, USA, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

My name is ________ AND MY MATHEMATICAL AND MY NAME IS _______ and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for Oynamic Privilege Sdu Bbd, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

My name is form Carlson and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

Given Reserve Management Group's role in supporting environmental responsibility, sustainability, and economic growth, I want to reiterate my full support for General III, LLC.

My name is Therese M. Dorigan and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

My name is Jim Olson, CEO of Riverside Engineering, and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group (RMG) and the construction of the General III, LLC facility at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

Our company has a decades long relationship with General Iron and is actively engaged in metal scrap recycling. General III and RMG play an essential role in helping local government manage their needs and responsibilities by providing a critical outlet for the recyclable materials generated within the community, without which these valuable commodities would build up and not only be lost for critical supply to manufacturers, but end up wrongfully in the waste stream.

Riverside Engineering, with GIII and RMG, are proud to be a key component in the supply chain for scrap recycling. The critically important manufacturing of Steel, Aluminum and Copper are dependent on GIII and RMG to provide essential feedstock for their operations.

Riverside's business success is dependent upon companies like General III and RMG. Our company's manufacturing, fabrication and assembly of capital equipment for the recycling industry is predominately done in Chicago. This manufacturing employs hundreds of quality, blue-collar jobs within miles of the new RMG facility.

Based on my observations, RMG/GIII operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance. They adhere to regulations and take all possible steps to be a good member of the community. These good neighbor policies have included advanced emissions control, roadways and surfaces regularly swept and watered, and RMG employees enforcing low speed yard traffic at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or similar recycling businesses.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility and the role they play in a nationally critical manufacturing sector, I want to provide my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Sincerely,

Jim-Olson, CEO, Riverside Engineering

I am writing to express support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

StormwateRx, LLC has provided stormwater pollution control equipment and engineering input for the current Chicago location and I was personally involved with the design and integration of the equipment to that site. Our team interfaced with the management team during the process and we believe the company and their staff are environmental stewards and endeavor to comply with environmental regulations and industry pollution control standards. The facility and management have implemented some environmental programs such as water conservation that are unique and advanced in their industry. Many facilities in the same business do not adhere to the same principals and standards, and we are proud to be associated with General Iron Industries, Inc.

The quality of our communities and environment depend upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. My name is John Waite and I am writing to express my support for Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for Waite Equipment Company, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility. I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Jim Kallas Environmental Manager GII, LLC 1909 N. Clifton Ave. Chicago, Illinois 60614

Re: General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group Proposed Facility at 11600 S. Burley Avenue

Dear Jim,

I have represented General Iron Industries for many years and know the owners well. I also represent General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group in their efforts to obtain a permit from the Illinois EPA for the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue on the Southeast Side of Chicago.

The proposed General III, LLC recycling facility will be a state-of-the-art recycling facility. It has been designed with comprehensive environmental controls that will be protective of the community and environment. Based on my experience, the owners of General Iron and Reserve Management Group are honest and ethical, and strive to operate their facilities to the highest standards of environmental compliance.

Given this commitment to environmental responsibility, I want to convey my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC.

Sincerely,

Ann M. Zwick

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.

HAZCHEM ENVIRONMENTAL CORPORATION

ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT & 24 HOUR EMERGENCY RESPONSE

June 4, 2020

TO WHOM IT CONCERN:

My name is Alan Shapiro president of HazChem Environmental Corporation (HazChem), an environmental firm that has been in the business for 20 years. I am proud to be part of the industry and we strive to make a positive impact on environmental issues that affect us all.

With that in mind, I'm writing to you today to express my utmost confidence in supporting Reserve Management Group, and the construction of the General III, LLC facility on Chicago's southeast side (11600 S. Burley Ave.).

HazChem works with a number of different environmental and recycling companies within the industry. I have worked with Jim Kalas on multiple occasions and projects, and he and his company always go above and beyond that which is needed to satisfy their clients' needs for recycling. That being said, it has always impressed me that not only do they keep their clients' needs in mind, but always doing so while maintaining the highest standard of required environmental compliance and standards.

I personally have seen that Reserve Management Group operations are run with standards beyond approach; including regularly sweeping and watering roadways and surfaces as needed and also enforcing a low speed limit on the property to limit dust being kicked up by vehicles. Furthermore, it is my understand that the proposed plans for the new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution control protocols and monitoring and I am excited to be able to continuing my working relationship with such a reputable company. As a business owner in such a regulation heavy industry I can rest assured knowing that my recycling needs are being handling properly, and I don't have to concern myself that all said required regulations are being met.

The new facility of General III, LLC will provide a need within the industry, as the recycling industry is imperative to keep obsolete metal items from landfills. I for one am all for doing my part in making every effort to reduce items needed to be landfilled. Additionally, it will relieve the stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material with new goods manufacturing – a win-win for all.

In closing, I again just want to reiterate my full support for Reserve Management Group and General III, LLC. It puts me at ease knowing their commitment to environmental responsibility is one that can be counted on. Should you need to contact me please feel free to do so at (630) 458-1910. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Alan Shapiro President

Dado este compromiso con la responsabilidad ambiental, quiero reiterar mi total apoyo a Reserve Management Group y General III, LLC.

Mi nombre es DANIEC CASTILO y estoy escribiendo para expresar mi apoyo a Reserve Management Group y la construcción de General III, LLC en 11600 S. Burley Avenue en el lado sureste de Chicago.

Basado en mis observaciones, las operaciones del Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva se ejecutan con los más altos estándares de cumplimiento ambiental que he visto en cualquier instalación de reciclaje donde hago negocios. Se adhieren a todas las regulaciones y toman todas las medidas posibles para exceder lo que exige la ley. Las vías de acceso y las superficies se barren regularmente y regadas, y del Grupo de Gestión de la Reserva funcionarios públicos aplican l límites de velocidad flujo a su facilidad para reducir el polvo que se levantaban del suelo.

Además, entiendo que la nueva instalación propuesta tendrá controles y monitoreo de contaminación aún más completos que la operación actual o cualquier otro negocio de reciclaje similar en el área.

My name is Any OW > and I am writing to express my supportfor Reserve Management Group and the construction of General III, LLC at 11600 S. Burley Avenue onthe Southeast Side of Chicago.

In my job working for StG, Auto, I am proud to make my living working in and with the recycling industry. My livelihood is dependent upon companies like General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group. The recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete metal items out of landfills and relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods.

Based on my observations, Reserve Management Group operations are run to the highest standards of environmental compliance that I have seen at any recycling facility where I do business. They adhere to all regulations and take all possible steps to exceed what is required by law. Roadways and surfaces are regularly swept and watered, and Reserve Management Group's employees enforce low speed limits at their facility to reduce dust being kicked up from the ground.

Further, it is my understanding that the proposed new facility will have even more comprehensive pollution controls and monitoring than the current operation or any other similar recycling business in the area.

The metals recycling industry keeps large amounts of obsolete items out of landfills and off of city streets. A commitment to recycling also relieves stress on the environment by reducing the need for virgin material in the manufacturing of new goods. In my everyday life I try to recycle and purchase products made from recycled materials. Companies such as General III, LLC and Reserve Management Group are vital parts of a supply chain that ensures the continued availability of these goods made from recycled materials in the marketplace.

Further, Reserve Management Group is an important economic engine that provides hundreds of good paying, head-of-household jobs. I believe it should be a high priority to keep such jobs in the city of Chicago rather than regulating them away to be moved to another city or region.
