PCB No. 11-60
(Third-Party Pollution Control Facility
Siting Appeal)

HENSON DISPOSAL, INC. AND TKNTK, LLC'S MOTION TO RECONSIDER

NOW COME the Respondents, Henson Disposal, Inc. ("Henson") and TKNTK, LLC ("TKNTK") (the "Henson Respondents"), by and through their attorneys, HINSHAW & CULBERTSON LLP, and pursuant to 35 Ill. Admin. Code 101.520, move the Pollution Control Board to reconsider its order of August 7, 2014 ("Order") vacating the siting approval of the McLean County Board for a pollution control facility (the "Facility") located at 2148 Tri Lakes Road. In support thereof, Respondents state as follows:

1. In its Order, the PCB granted summary judgment for Petitioner because it found that a person entitled to pre-filing notice under Section 39.2(b) of the Environmental Protection Act, the taxpayer of PIN 21-16-226-004, was not served or sent such notice. However, reconsideration is appropriate, and summary judgment should not be granted, because there are material facts related to pre-filing notice that have been discovered since the Order was issued.¹

2. Reconsideration is appropriate in this instance because there is new evidence indicating that the Order was in error. See 35 Ill. Admin. Code 101.902 ("In ruling upon a motion for reconsideration, the Board will consider factors including new evidence, or a change in the law, to conclude that the Board's decision was in error.").

¹ The parties stipulated that there were no material facts concerning jurisdiction "that any party believes will be identified or otherwise disclosed at a hearing in this matter." Order at 17. This stipulation does not preclude the possibility of new evidence, as in the instant case.

3. The owner of PIN 21-16-226-004, Tonja Gibson, has come forward and stated that she had actual notice regarding the Facility. Furthermore, Ms. Gibson has stated that she did not have any objection to either the notice received or the siting of the Facility at any relevant time throughout these proceedings. Ms. Gibson's Affidavit, which is attached hereto as Exhibit 1, states that the Ms. Gibson subscribed to the Pantagraph, the newspaper in which pre-filing notice was published. Ex. 1, ¶ 3. Ms. Gibson further state that she "did not and do[es] not have any objection to the siting of the Henson Disposal, Inc. pollution control facility." Ex. 1, ¶ 4.

4. The Fourth District of the Appellate Court of Illinois, by whom an appeal in this matter would be heard, has not specifically addressed the issue of whether actual notice is sufficient to satisfy the jurisdictional prerequisite of Section 39.2. However, it has held that a notice that contains errors in the description of the property location, but which is nonetheless sufficient to apprise concerned citizens and adjoining landowners of the location of the proposed site, meets the requirements of Section 39.2(b). See Tate v. PCB, 188 Ill. App. 3d 994, 1018, 544 N.E.2d 1176 (4th Dist. 1989) ("The purpose of the notice is obviously to notify interested persons of the intent to seek approval to develop a new site or to expand an existing facility."); see also Daubs Landfill, Inc. v. PCB, 166 Ill. App. 3d 778, 782, 520 N.E.2d 977 (5th Dist. 1988). "An act of the legislature should not be construed so as to lead to absurd consequences." Daubs, 166 Ill. App. 3d at 782.

5. It would be an absurd consequence to vacate the properly issued siting approval in this matter based on the fact that a landowner who had actual notice, and who does not object to the siting of the Facility, was not also mailed notice. The Gibsons were "apprised of the location of the proposed site" and were aware of the Henson Respondents' "intent to seek approval to develop a new site," and simply had and have no objections to its location.

6. Further, several courts have held that a party entitled to notice need not have actually received the notice in order for the siting authority to have jurisdiction. See, e.g., Maggio v. PCB, 2014 Ill App (2d) 130260 (2d Dist. 2014) ("[S]ection 39.2(b) does not require that landowners actually receive preapplication notices at least 14 days before the siting application is filed."). It is completely illogical to vacate the siting approval in this case, in which a non-objecting landowner had actual notice, especially in light of the cases that have upheld approvals where the landowners did not even receive pre-filing notice. This is particularly true where, as here, the intent of the notice -- to apprise the Gibsons of the Henson Respondents' intent to seek site approval -- was satisfied.

6. In light of the new evidence discussed herein, the Order should be reversed and Petitioner's Motion for Summary Judgment should be denied.

WHEREFORE, the Henson Respondents respectfully request that the PCB reconsider its Order and deny Petitioner's Motion for Summary Judgment.

Dated: September 15, 2014

Respectfully submitted,

On behalf of HENSON DISPOSAL, INC and TKNTK, LLC.
