GENERAL REMARKS

During the stated date and time, I conducted an inspection of the site listed above. This inspection was made as a follow up to a complaint received by the Jackson County Health Department. Weather conditions at the time of the inspection were: Sunny with strong, gusting winds and a temperature of approximately 53°F. I was accompanied on this inspection by Kyle Scerena of the Jackson County Health Department. According to the Jackson County Assessor's Office, the site owner is Christopher Will. During the inspection a truck labeled "C Will Construction" was observed (Photo #4, Site Sketch) which would seem to confirm that Mr. Will owns the site.

I arrived at the site and parked in the driveway just west of the residence. I went to the west-facing door of the residence and knocked several times with no one responding. I called out in a loud voice "health department" several times with no one responding.

From a location near the west side of the residence, I looked south and observed piles of material lying along the west side of a shed (Photo #1, Site Sketch-Shed A). Since the material in this area was not being protected for future use and was being stored in an "unsightly" manner, it was considered waste. The waste I observed in this area consisted of, but was not limited to: waste tires, scrap metal, plastic containers, PVC pipe and metal gas cylinders. South of the waste lying along "Shed A" I observed more open dumped waste.

I continued walking south along the drive way while calling out in a loud voice "health department," still with no one responding. As I continued walking south along the driveway I observed, from various locations, more open dumped waste. The waste I observed consisted of, but was not limited to: waste tires, scrap metal and a refrigerator (Photos #2 & #3, Site Sketch-Area A), a boat, dimensional lumber, a riding lawn mower, scrap metal and fiberglass insulation (Photo #5, Site Sketch).

South of the waste in the area labeled "A" on the site sketch I observed a large waste pile (Photos #6 - #11, Site Sketch-Area B). The waste in this area consisted of, but was not limited to: scrap metal, a metal fuel tank, bicycle, metal sinks, plastic containers, electrical wiring, dimensional lumber, waste tires, metal conduit, metal roofing, insulation, a computer tower, porcelain fixtures, and a plastic tarpaulin (Photos #6 - #10, Site Sketch-Area B).

I also observed in the area labeled "B" on the site sketch, a metal barrel that was cut in half and was charred (Photo #11, Site Sketch-Area B). I observed that the area inside the barrel and the ground around it was charred, which indicated that open burning had occurred at this location. I also observed short strands of charred, metal wire on the ground around this metal barrel, which indicated that the wire had been subjected to open burning.

From my location near the metal barrel, I looked to the southeast and observed a damaged mobile home and waste open dumped on the ground near it. The ground in the area around the damaged mobile home was bare of vegetation and appeared as if it had been recently disturbed and graded. The area with the disturbed soil sloped downward toward what appeared to be an intermittent stream or natural gully. I walked toward the area of disturbed soil and observed, more closely, the damaged mobile home and the waste piles (Photos #12 & #13, Site Sketch). The waste in this area consisted of, but was not limited to: cardboard boxes, plastic caulk tubes, ash, dimensional lumber, plastic and other materials not readily identifiable (Photos #12 & #13, Site Sketch).

To the east I observed a waste pile that was giving off grey-white smoke near the edge of the intermittent stream (Photo #14, Site Sketch). I walked to the edge of the intermittent stream and observed waste had been dumped in it (Photos #15 & #16, Site Sketch-Area C). The waste I observed open dumped into the intermittent stream consisted of, but was not limited to: dimensional lumber, tar roofing shingles (different colors), insulation, paper, a plastic gas container, ash, broken glass, garbage and soil that had been pushed on top of the waste (Photos #15 & #16, Site Sketch-Area C). Looking south along the upper edge of the intermittent stream I observed waste that included, but was not limited to: ash, dimensional lumber, concrete blocks, plywood, plastic clothes hangers, wooden pallets, ash and plastic items (Photos #17 & #18, Site Sketch-Area C). Some of the waste in this area continued to give off the grey-white smoke, indicating that open burning had recently occurred at this location. Also, I observed a ridge of soil along the upper edge of the intermittent stream which would seem to indicate that soil was being pushed out onto the waste in an effort to cover it (Photo #17 & #18, Site Sketch-Area C).

At the time of the inspection, the materials listed as waste in the above narrative were either not in use, not useable in their current condition, or were not stored in such a way as to protect any future use. Also, at the time of the inspection, the items that were listed as waste were unorganized, unlabeled and stored in an unsightly manner.

The total volume of waste observed was approximately in excess of 300 cubic yards.

My inspection ended at approximately 12:33 p.m.
