Table 6:
Requested Revisions Not Made on Final Adoption

- 35 Ill. Adm. Code 702.104 preamble (JCAR): Change “where” to “when.”
Response: “Where” is appropriate in a situational sense, as here. “When” is appropriate in the sense of an occurrence or event in time.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 702.105(a)(1) (JCAR): Change “which” to “that.”

Response: The Board prefers “which” for a subsequent restrictive relative clause.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.111(b), subpart FF of 40 CFR 265 (JCAR): Change “Sections 720.104 and 720.105” to “35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.104 and 720.105” before “264.18(a).”

Response: The cross-reference is to provisions within the Part.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.111(b), subpart FF of 40 CFR 264 (JCAR): Change “Sections 720.104 and 720.105” to “35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.104 and 720.105” before “264.18(a).”

Response: The cross-reference is to provisions within the Part.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.111(b), appendix VI to 40 CFR 264 (JCAR): Change the section symbol to “Section” before “264.18(a).”

Response: The section symbol is part of the title of the USEPA rule.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.111(b), subpart FF of 40 CFR 265 (JCAR): Change “Sections 720.104 and 720.105” to “35 Ill. Adm. Code 720.104 and 720.105” before “264.18(a).”

Response: The cross-reference is to provisions within the Part.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 721.104(a)(24)(E)(iii) (JCAR): Change the brackets in “[insert name(s) of reclamation facility and any intermediate facility]” to parentheses.

Response: The text is a federally required certification statement. The brackets indicate information to be inserted in the statement. Brackets are appropriate for clarification or elaboration of quoted statements.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 721.104(a)(25)(A)(vi) (JCAR): Remove the comma from before “types of container.”

Response: The comma is needed to separate elements of a series. See the entries in Tables 2 and 4 above.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 721.104(a)(25)(K)(iv) (JCAR): Change “where applicable” to “if applicable.”

Response: The Board opted to instead use “if.” See the entries in Tables 2 and 4 above.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 721.104(a)(27)(A) (JCAR): Change the optional soft hyphens in “dichloromethane” and “tetrahydrofuran” to hard hyphens in “dichloro-methane” and “tetrahydrofuran.”

Response: The Board uses soft hyphens in longer chemical names to facilitate line breaks between chemical moieties and structural segments. Hard hyphens are inappropriate because a hyphen should only appear at the end of a line.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 722 table of contents, Subpart E (JCAR): Add the Subpart E and contained Section headings.

Response: Recodification at 42 Ill. Reg. 11553 (June 22, 2018) removed Subpart E.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 722 table of contents, Subpart F (JCAR): Add the Subpart E and contained Section headings.

Response: Recodification at 42 Ill. Reg. 11553 (June 22, 2018) removed Subpart F.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 724.986(c) (JCAR): Change “Standard” to lower-case “standard” in the topical subheading without using overstriking and underlining.

Response: JCAR consistently requests title case in topical subheadings. This is an obvious error in the JCAR text.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 724.986(d) (JCAR): Remove the ending period from the topical subheading without using overstriking.

Response: JCAR consistently requests removal from stand-alone topical subheadings. This is an obvious error in the JCAR text.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 724.986(d)(3)(A)(ii) (JCAR): Add a comma before “being filled to the intended final level.”

Response: The clause is descriptive of “the container”; it is not a parenthetical.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 724.986(d)(4)(A) (JCAR): Change “if” to “in the event when.”

Response: “If” is appropriate for the conditional statement.

35 Ill. Adm. Code 724.986(e) (JCAR): Remove the ending period from the topical subheading without using overstriking.

Response: JCAR consistently requests removal from stand-alone topical subheadings. This is an obvious error in the JCAR text.
