Letter from the Chairman

On October 29, 2003, Governor Rod R. Blagojevich filed papers reconstituting the Illinois Pollution Control Board. Effective December 1, 2003, the Board will have five members, reduced from seven. I will step down as Chairman, and Philip Novak, of Bradley, will retire from his position as State Representative of the 79th District to serve as Chairman of the Board. G. Tanner Girard, Nicholas J. Melas and myself have been reappointed as Board Members. Andrea Moore, of Libertyville, who formerly served as assistant director of the Department of Natural Resources, will be the fifth Board Member.

I am confident that the changes enacted by Governor Blagojevich will have a positive effect on the Board's ability to fulfill its statutory mission of determining, defining and implementing the environmental control standards applicable in the State of Illinois, and I am certain that the newly constituted Board will continue to provide excellent service to the citizens of our State.

Members Doris C. Karpel, William A. Marovitz, Lynne P. Padovan and Michael E. Tristano were not re-appointed. I want to thank each of them for their excellent service to the Board, and I wish them well in all future endeavors.

I am proud of the many accomplishments made by the Board while I had the honor to serve as Chairman. Of specific note are the continuing efforts to make Board case information and filings easier for the public to access via the COOL system - Clerk's Office On Line, as well as important pending rulemakings to amend National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permits and permitting procedures, and to overhaul the State's noise regulations.

I have no doubt the Board will continue to flourish under the guidance of Philip Novak. The Board is fortunate to have a dedicated, professional staff working diligently to guarantee that the citizens of Illinois have a healthy and safe environment in which to live, work, and to raise a family. I assure you that the Board Members and staff will continue to work diligently to faithfully fulfill the Board's statutory mission, and I am sure I speak for everyone here when I say the Board looks forward to serving you in the future.

Sincerely,

United States Environmental Protection Agency Publishes Notice of Annual Adjustment Factors for Excess Emission Penalties in the Clean Air Act Acid Rain Program

In October 1, 2003 (68 Fed. Reg. 56632), the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) published a notice of the annual adjustment factors for excess emission penalties in the Acid Rain Program. As explained below, these penalties are per ton of excess emissions, $2900 for compliance year 2003 and $2963 for compliance year 2004.

Under the Acid Rain Program, affected units must hold enough allowances to cover their sulfur dioxide emissions and meet an emission limit for nitrogen oxides. Under 40 CFR 77.6, units that do not meet these requirements must pay a penalty without demand to the USEPA based on the number of excess tons emitted times $2000 as adjusted by an annual adjustment factor that must be published in the Federal Register. The annual adjustment factor for adjusting the penalty for excess emissions of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides under 40 CFR part 77 for the compliance year 2003 is 1.4502. This value is derived from the Consumer Price Index for 1990 and 2003, as defined in 40 CFR part 72, and corresponds to a penalty of $2900 per excess ton of sulfur dioxide or nitrogen oxides emitted. The annual adjustment factor for adjusting the penalty for excess emissions of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides under 40 CFR part 77 for compliance year 2004 is 1.4815. This value is derived from the Consumer Price Index for 1990 and 2004, as defined in 40 CFR part 72, and corresponds to a penalty of $2963 per excess ton of sulfur dioxide or nitrogen oxides emitted.

For further information contact Robert Miller, Clean Air Markets Division (6204N), U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, DC 20460 at (202) 564-9077.

If any amendments to the Illinois air rules become necessary, the Board would expect the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to propose amendments using the Clean Air Act “fast-track” procedures at Section 28.5 of the Environmental Protection Act (415 ILCS 5/28.5 (2002)).

United States Environmental Protection Agency Adopts National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants From Site Remediation Projects Under the Clean Air Act

On October 8, 2003 (68 Fed. Reg. 58171), the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) adopted national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAP) from site remediations. The final rule implements the Clean Air Act section 112(d) to control hazardous air pollutants (HAP) emissions at major sources where remediation technologies and practices are used at the site to clean up contaminated environmental media (e.g., soils, groundwaters, or surface waters) or certain stored or disposed materials that pose a reasonable potential threat to contaminate environmental media.

Site remediations subject to the final rule are required to control emissions of organic HAP by meeting emissions limitations and work practice standards reflecting the application of maximum achievable control technology. The final rule applies to certain types of site remediation activities that are conducted at a facility where non-remediation sources are a major source of HAP emissions. Some site remediations already regulated by rules established under the Comprehensive Environmental Response and Compensation Liability Act or the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act are not subject to the final rule.

The HAP emitted by site remediation activities can include benzene, ethyl benzene, toluene, vinyl chloride, xylenes, and other volatile organic compounds (VOC). The range of potential human health effects associated with exposure to these organic HAP and VOC include cancer, aplastic anemia, upper respiratory tract irritation, liver damage, and neurotoxic effects (e.g., headache, dizziness, nausea, tremors).

This rule was effective on October 8, 2003.

For information concerning applicability and rule determinations, contact the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency or the USEPA Region 5 Office representative. For information concerning the analyses performed in developing the final rule, contact Mr. Greg Nizich, Waste and Chemical Processes Group, Emission Standards Division (C439-03), U.S. EPA, Research Triangle Park, NC 27711, telephone number (919) 541-3078, e-mail address nizich.greg@epa.gov.

Pursuant to Section 9.1(b) of the Environmental Protection Act (Act) (415 ILCS 5/9.1(b) (2002)), once adopted by the USEPA, NESHAP rules are applicable and enforceable under the Act without further action by the Board.

United States Environmental Protection Agency Adopts Amendments to the Prevention of Significant Deterioration and Non-Attainment New Source Review Regulations Under the Clean Air Act

On October 27, 2003 (68 Fed. Reg. 61247), the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) adopted amendments to the Prevention of Significant Deterioration and Non-Attainment New Source Review (NSR) regulations by amending the equipment replacement provision of the routine maintenance, repair and replacement (RMRR) exclusion.

USEPA finalized revisions to the regulations governing the NSR programs mandated by parts C and D of title I of the Clean Air Act. These changes provide a category of equipment replacement activities that are not subject to Major NSR requirements under the RMRR exclusion.

The USEPA's final rule focused on amending certain provisions of the major NSR program by finalizing the equipment replacement provision (ERP) to specify activities that will automatically qualify for the RMRR exclusion. No action was taken in this rulemaking to address the current practice of reviewing other aspects of the RMRR program, such as clarification of the case-by-case approach for determining whether an activity is RMRR. USEPA stated that it is still considering what, if any, changes should be made to that policy. In the meantime, the case-by-case approach will remain available for the owner or operator of a source to use as an alternative and/or supplement to the new ERP.

Under the adopted amendments, an activity (or aggregations of activities) can qualify for the ERP if: (1) it involves replacement of any existing components of a process unit with components that are identical or that serve the same purpose as the replaced components; (2) the fixed capital cost of the replaced components, plus costs of any activities that are part of the replacement activity (e.g., labor, contract services, major equipment rental, and associated repair and maintenance activities), does not exceed 20 percent of the current replacement value of the process unit; and (3) the replacements do not alter the basic design parameters of the process unit or cause the process unit to exceed any emission limitation or operational limitation (that has the effect of constraining emissions) that applies to any component of the process unit and that is legally enforceable. USEPA stated that the term "component" is meant to be read and applied broadly to include replacements of both large components, such as economizers, reheaters, etc. at a boiler, as well as small items, such as screws, washers, gaskets, etc. Certain ancillary costs incurred during a given replacement activity should not be part of the replacement activity, such as replacement power that must be purchased during the maintenance shutdown of an electric utility.

Environmental Register – October 2003

The final rule is effective on December 26, 2003.

For further information contact Mr. Dave Svendsgaard, Information Transfer and Program Integration Division (C339-03), U.S. EPA Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards, Research Triangle Park, North Carolina 27711, telephone 919-541-2380, or email at svendsgaard.dave@epa.gov.

If any amendments to the Illinois air rules become necessary, the Board would expect the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to propose amendments using the Clean Air Act “fast-track” procedures at Section 28.5 of the Environmental Protection Act (415 ILCS 5/28.5 (2002)).

Board Adopts Second Notice Opinion and Order in Site-Specific Rule for City of Effingham Treatment Plant Fluoride Discharge, 35 Ill. Adm. Code 304.233 (R03-11)

On October 2, 2003, the Board adopted a second notice opinion and order in Site-Specific Rule for City of Effingham Treatment Plant Fluoride Discharge, 35 Ill. Adm. Code 304.233 (R03-11). The Board has sent the rulemaking, pursuant to the Illinois Administrative Procedure Act (5 ILCS 100/1-1 et seq. (2002)), to the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules (JCAR) for its review and approval. The proposed amendments will be considered at the November 18, 2003 JCAR meeting. The Board did not make any substantive changes to the proposal it adopted for first notice on July 24, 2003 (published in the Illinois Register at 27 Ill. Reg. 13680 (August 15, 2003)).

This rulemaking was initiated by a proposal filed by the City of Effingham (City), Blue Beacon International, Inc. (BBI) and Truckomat Corporation (Truckomat) to add Section 303.326 as a site-specific water quality designation.

The proposed amendments would add a new Section 303.326 setting a site-specific fluoride water quality standard of 5.0 mg/L to accommodate the discharge of fluoride from the City’s publicly owned treatment works (POTW). This level of fluoride is gradually reduced downstream from the POTW to 3.2 mg/L and then 2.0 mg/L before it reverts back to the general water quality standard of 1.4 mg/L.

BBI and Truckomat operate truck washes in Effingham, and the wastewater from the truck washes contains fluoride resulting from the brighteners used in washing the trucks. Both companies have testified at hearing that there are no alternative replacements for these brighteners, and that discontinuing their use would cause a severe negative economic impact for both the facilities and for the surrounding businesses that rely on the truck traffic generated by the washing facilities.

The proposal filed by the City, BBI, and Truckomat originally sought relief from the Board’s effluent standards at 35 Ill. Adm. Code 304. While the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) testified at hearing that the requested relief from the fluoride rules will continue to be protective of the waters of the state located downstream from the POTW, the IEPA stated that the petitioners should have requested relief from the fluoride water quality standard, rather than the effluent standard. The IEPA explained that site-specific relief from the effluent standards could still leave the City open to the possibility of a violation of the water quality standards and could be inconsistent with federal law. The IEPA suggested that the Board could be viewed as essentially granting a discharger indefinite or permanent permission to violate a water quality standard. The IEPA suggested that the Board instead establish a site-specific water quality standard for the receiving waters of the POTW. Consequently, the Board’s proposed rule is a site-specific water quality standard.

A hearing was held in Effingham on April 11, 2003 on the substance of the rulemaking. On July 18, 2003, the Board held a second hearing dealing solely with the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity’s decision not to conduct an economic impact study on this proposal.

Board Adopts Final Amendments in SDWA Update, USEPA Amendments (July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2003) (R03-15)

On October 2, 2003, the Board adopted a final opinion and order in SDWA Update, USEPA Amendments (July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2003) (R03-15). The rulemaking adopts amendments to the Illinois regulations that are “identical in substance” to drinking water regulations adopted by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA). The USEPA rules implement Sections 1412(b), 1414(c), 1417(a), and 1445(a) of the federal Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA) (42 U.S.C. §§ 300g-1(a), 300g-3(c), 300g-6(a), and 300j-4(a) (1994)).

This docket includes federal SDWA amendments that USEPA adopted in the period July 1, 2002 through December 31, 2002. The final amendments were filed with the Secretary of State and were published in the Illinois Register on October 31, 2002 with an October 10, 2003 effective date.

As explained below, the substantive amendments involved in this proceeding update the analytical methods approved for determining contaminants in drinking water and make minor changes to the consumer confidence report rule.

Analytical Methods Update. On October 23, 2002 (67 Fed. Reg. 65220), USEPA amended the methods for analysis of contaminants in water and wastewater. This included analytical methods used for determining compliance with the SDWA drinking water requirements. The methods are used to determine chemical, microbiological, and radiological contamination of water. USEPA noted that a number of entities updated their published methods: ASTM International, the United States Geological Survey, the United States Department of Energy, the American Public Health Association, the American Water Works Association, and the Water Environment Federation. In updating the references to the various methods, USEPA stated that previously approved versions of the methods are still available for use.

On October 29, 2002, USEPA approved two new methods for analysis of drinking water for various SOC contaminants. USEPA published a correction to the October 29, 2002 notice on November 13, 2002 (67 Fed. Reg. 68911). Persons interested in the details of the federal amendments should consult the Federal Register notices of October 23, 2002, October 29, 2002, and November 13, 2002.

The Board incorporated the October 23, 2002 and October 29, 2002 federal amendments into the Illinois drinking water regulations by revision of the various references to the methods, where necessary, and by updating the incorporations of the methods by reference.

Consumer Confidence Rule Changes. On November 27, 2002 (67 Fed. Reg. 70850), USEPA amended aspects of the health effects language for the consumer confidence rule. The principal amendments relate to two chemicals, di(2-ethylhexyl)adipate and di(2-ethylhexyl)phthalate. Other amendments are called minor corrections by USEPA. USEPA published a minor correction to the November 27, 2002 action on December 9, 2002 (67 Fed. Reg. 73011). Persons interested in the details of the federal amendments should consult the Federal Register notices of November 27, 2002 and December 9, 2002.

Board Orders Third Hearing in Noise Rule Update: Amendments to 35 Ill. Adm. Code 901 (R03-09)

On October 16, 2003, the Board ordered a third hearing in Noise Rule Update: Amendments to 35 Ill. Adm. Code 901 (R03-09) in response to public comments received during the first notice period.

Public comments submitted by the Illinois Association of Aggregate Producers (Producers) and Boughton Trucking (Boughton) suggest that there are substantive problems with measurements taken in accordance with the first notice draft and request an additional hearing to discuss them. Specifically, the Producers contend that Part 910 “does not require that non-agency personnel who conduct sound measurements be trained and experienced in sound measurement technique and equipment.” They argue that previously personnel of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency who measured sound were trained and experienced. The Producers propose adding a Section requiring training and experience. Producers believe that Section 910.104 compounds the reliability problem by allowing the complainant to merely follow the instructions of the sound pressure measurement equipment manufacturer when conducting sound pressure measurements and offering Section 910.105 as guidance. They argue that sound pressure measurements taken by personnel who do not have to comply with either Sections 910.105 or 951.104 will be unreliable. Boughton agrees with the arguments outlined by Producers.

In its order in response to these comments, the Board noted that the proposed modifications are a codification of current conditions which allow the public to measure noise to corroborate other evidence and that Part 910 merely provides guidance and standards for the measurement of noise. However, the Board ordered the hearing officer to schedule a third hearing on the July 10, 2003, first notice opinion and order (published in the July 25, 2003 issue of the Illinois Register (27 Ill. Reg. 11908 and 11989).

Provisional Variances

IEPA 03-002 City of West Frankfort v. IEPA—The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency granted this Franklin County facility a 45-day provisional variance, subject to conditions, from 35 Ill. Adm. Code 302.212 for ammonia nitrogen, from 35 Ill. Adm. Code 304.120(c) for CBOD5, and from 304.20(c) for suspended solids.

Public Act 93-0152 (Senate Bill 222) amended Sections 35-37 of the Illinois Environmental Act (415 ILCS 5/5(b) (2002)) so that provisional variances are issued by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA). If the IEPA grants a provisional variance, then the IEPA must file a copy of its written decision with the Board. The Board must maintain copies of the provisional variances for public inspection. Copies of provisional variances can be obtained by contacting the Clerk's Office at (312) 814-3620, or by visiting the Board's Website at www.ipcb.state.il.us. If the IEPA denies a provisional variance request, then the applicant may initiate a proceeding with the Board for a full variance.

RESTRICTED STATUS LIST

In order to comply with 35 Illinois Administrative Code Section 306.401, Illinois Pollution Control Board Regulations, the Illinois EPA has prepared the following list of facilities which are on Restricted Status. Restricted Status is defined as the Agency determination that a sewer or lift station has reached hydraulic capacity or that a sewage treatment plant has reached design capacity, such that additional sewer connection permits may no longer be issued without causing a violation of the Act or Regulations. Please note that the list is continually being revised to reflect the current situation. Therefore, if you have any questions on the capability of a treatment facility or transport system, please contact this Agency for a final determination. This listing reflects the status as of September 30, 2003.

Facility names followed by an asterisk (*) indicates that construction is underway to ultimately alleviate problems, which resulted in imposition of Restricted Status. Facilities followed by a double asterisk (**) are additions to the list.

CRITICAL REVIEW LIST

In order to comply with 35 Illinois Administrative Code Section 306.401, Illinois Pollution Control Board Regulations, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has prepared the following list of facilities which are on Critical Review. Critical Review as defined as the Agency determination that a sewer or lift station is approaching hydraulic capacity or that a sewage treatment plant is approaching design capacity such that additional sewer connection permit applications will require close scrutiny to determine whether issuance would result in a violation of the Act or Regulations. Please note that these lists are continually being revised to reflect the current situation. Therefore, if you have any questions on the capability of a treatment facility or transport system, please contact the Agency for a final determination. This listing reflects the status as of September 30, 2003.

Facility names followed by a double asterisk (**) are additions to the list.
