RULEMAKING UPDATE

Board Adopts Second-Notice Opinion and Order in In the Matter of: Amendments to Requirements for Landscape Waste Compost Facilities, 35 Ill. Adm. Code 830.203(c), 831.107, and 831.109(b)(3), R97-29

On October 1, 1998, the Board adopted for second-notice review by the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules amendments to 35 Ill. Adm. Code 830.203(c), 831.107, and 831.109(b)(3) which set requirements for landscape waste compost facilities. This rulemaking arises out of a proposal filed on May 6, 1997, by two citizens, Dr. Renuka Desai and Susan Garrett (proponents). On June 17, 1998, the Board adopted a modified version of proponents' proposal for first-notice publication in the Illinois Register. 22 Ill. Reg. 11361 (July 3, 1998).

The Board's second-notice order is similar to the first-notice order with some additional changes regarding the amendment's applicability. Generally, the second-notice order requires certain composting areas established after January 1, 1999, to be located at (Rulemaking Update Continued on page 2)

FEDERAL ACTIONS

Comments Sought Concerning Proposed Consent Decree Reached in United States v. Shell Oil Company, Shell Wood River Refining Company, Equilon Enterprises LLC, Wood River Refining Company, a Division of Equilon Enterprises LLC

On September 9, 1998, a proposed consent decree was reached in United States v. Shell Oil Company, Shell Wood River Refining Company, Equilon Enterprises LLC, Wood River Refining Company, a Division of Equilon Enterprise, LLC, Civil Action Number 98-652-GPM. 63 Fed. Reg. 52291 (September 30, 1998). The proposed consent decree, filed with the United States District Court for the Southern District of Illinois, resolves the United States' claims against Shell Oil Company, Shell Wood River Refining Company, Equilon Enterprises LLC, and Wood River Refining Company, a Division of Equilon Enterprises LLC (collectively, defendants) for violations which occurred at the Wood River Refinery in Roxana, Illinois, under the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. § 7401 et seq.) and the Emergency Response and Community Right to Know Act (42 U.S.C. § 9601 et seq.). The proposed consent decree would also resolve claims brought by the State of Illinois, which has intervened in this action.

Under the terms of the proposed consent decree, defendants will pay a civil penalty of $1.5 million ($500,000 of which will go to the State of Illinois) and certify compliance with the above-referenced environmental laws. Defendants will also perform six environmental projects as a part of the proposed settlement, including a project designed to reduce emissions of sulfur dioxide by 7,700 tons per year and nitrogen oxides by 940 tons per year and a project that will require defendants to arrange for the transfer of land along the Mississippi (Federal Update Continued on p. 3) least 1/8 mile from health care facilities, pre-school and child care facilities and their associated recreational areas, and primary and secondary school facilities and their associated recreational areas. The second-notice order also includes corresponding changes to requirements for site location maps and other information in permit applications.

The Board held three public hearings on the original proposal: the first, in Chicago on September 8, 1997; the second, in Springfield, on October 7, 1997; and the third, in Chicago, on August 7, 1998. The Board received numerous public comments before and during the first-notice public comment period.

Board Adopts Amendments in In the Matter of Review of Remediation Costs for Environmental Remediation Tax Credit (Amendments to 35 Ill. Adm. Code 740), R98-27

On October 15, 1998, the Board adopted amendments to 35 Ill. Adm. Code 740. Part 740 implements Public Act 90-123, which created an environmental remediation tax credit (tax credit). See Pub. Act 90-123 (1997), eff. July 21, 1997, amending Section 201(l) of the Illinois Income Tax Act (35 ILCS 5/101 et seq. (1996)) and Section 58.14 of the Environmental Protection Act (Act) (415 ILCS 5/1 et seq. (1996)).

Section 58.14 of the Act required the Board to adopt tax credit rules for second notice within six months after the Board received the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's (IEPA) proposed rules, or by July 21, 1998. The tax credit allows taxpayers under the Administrative Procedures Act to credit against their Illinois tax liability a portion of the costs that taxpayers have spent to clean up certain contaminated properties (or "brownfields"). The tax credit is intended to spur the cleanup and redevelopment of brownfields. A taxpayer who wishes to claim the tax credit must first submit to the IEPA an application for review of its cleanup (or "remediation") costs. The amendments also establish the procedures and standards under which the IEPA will consider these applications.

On July 8, 1998, the Board adopted the amendments for second-notice review by the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules (JCAR). JCAR considered the rules and suggested two changes to reflect additional legislative developments. JCAR issued a certificate of no objection at its August 18, 1998 meeting.

After the Board adopted the opinion and order for second-notice review by JCAR, Governor Jim Edgar signed two bills, SB 1291 (Pub. Act 90-717, eff. August 7, 1998) and SB 1705 (Pub. Act 90-792, eff. January 1, 1999), that necessitated additional substantive changes to the proposed rules. SB 1291 provides that costs deducted, or used for an environmental remediation credit, under the Internal Revenue Code are eligible for the Illinois tax credit. This legislative change required changes in the proposed rules at Sections 740.710 and 740.730. SB 1705 eliminated one of the geographical requirements for sites to receive more beneficial treatment under the tax credit program. This legislative change required modification to Section 740.720(c).

The Board held three public hearings in this matter: the first, in Chicago, on February 24, 1998; the second, in Springfield, on February 27, 1998; and the third, also in Springfield, on March 17, 1998. The March 17, 1998 hearing was solely for the purpose of receiving comment on the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs' decision not to perform an economic impact study on the IEPA's proposed rules pursuant to Pub. Act 90-489, effective January 1, 1998. On April 16, 1998, the Board adopted the proposal for first-notice publication in the Illinois Register, whereupon a 45-day public comment period commenced.

River (valued at $500,000) to the State of Illinois for wetlands preservation and water quality protection purposes. The total costs of the environmental projects will exceed $10 million.

Comments regarding the proposed consent decree must be received by October 30, 1998, and should be sent to: Assistant Attorney General for Environmental and Natural Resources Division, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530 and should reference the case name and civil action number. ♦

United States Environmental Protection Agency Promulgates National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants for New and Existing Plants that Manufacture Flexible Polyurethane Foam

On October 7, 1998, the United States Environmental Protection Agency promulgated national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAP) for new and existing plants that manufacture flexible polyurethane foam. 63 Fed. Reg. 53979 (October 7, 1998). These standards are estimated to reduce hazardous air pollutant emissions from all existing sources of flexible polyurethane foam manufacturing by over 12,500 Mg/year. This represents a 70% reduction from baseline emissions. Section 9.1(a) of the Environmental Protection Act (Act) (415 ILCS 5/9.1(a) (1996)) provides that NESHAPs are applicable and enforceable under the Act without further rulemaking action by the Board. These standards were effective October 7, 1998. ♦

United States Environmental Protection Agency Proposes Generic Maximum Achievable Control Technology Standards for Certain Small Source Categories Consisting of Five or Fewer Sources

On October 14, 1998, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) proposed a generic maximum achievable control technology (MACT) standard program to be utilized by the USEPA in establishing national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAPs) under Section 112 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. § 7412)) for certain small source categories consisting of five or fewer sources. 63 Fed. Reg. 55177 (October 14, 1998). As a part of this generic MACT program, the USEPA is proposing an alternative methodology under which it will make its MACT determination for appropriate small categories by referring to previous MACT standards that have been promulgated for similar sources in other categories. The USEPA states that the basic purpose of the proposed generic MACT program is to use public and private sector resources efficiently and to promote regulatory consistency and predictability in MACT standard development.

The USEPA also proposed general control requirements for certain types of emission points for hazardous air pollutants, which will then be referenced, as appropriate, in the generic MACT requirements for individual source categories. The proposed general control requirements would be applicable to storage vessels managing organic materials, process vents emitting organic vapors, and leaks from equipment components. In addition, the USEPA proposed requirements for closed vent systems, control devices, recovery devices, and routing to fuel gas systems.

Finally, the USEPA proposed specific MACT standards that have been developed within the generic MACT framework for four specific source categories that are included in the USEPA's list of categories for which NESHAPs air pollutants are required. This proposal includes standards for acetyl resins production, acryl and modacrylic fiber production, hydrogen fluoride production, and polycarbonate production.

Section 9.1(a) of the Environmental Protection Act (415 ILCS 5/9.1(a) (1996)) (Act) provides that NESHAPs, once adopted by the USEPA, are applicable and enforceable under the Act without further rulemaking action by the Board.

Comments must be received on or before January 12, 1999, and must be sent to: Air and Radiation Docket and Information Center (6102) (LE-131), Attention, Docket No. A-97-17, USEPA, 401 M Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20460. ♦

United States Environmental Protection Agency
Reaches Proposed Administrative De Minimis Settlement Regarding Lenz Oil Services, Inc.
Site located in Lemont, Du Page County, Illinois

On October 28, 1998, the Department of Justice, on behalf of the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA), reached a proposed administrative de minimis settlement with 618 parties regarding the Lenz Oil Services, Inc. site (site), located in Lemont, Du Page County, Illinois. The settlement was reached pursuant to Section 122(I)(1) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA) (42 U.S.C. § 9622(I)(1)) and Section 7003(d) of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) (42 U.S.C. § 6973(d)). The settlement involves a USEPA claim under Section 107(a) of CERCLA (42 U.S.C. § 9607) and Section 7003 of RCRA (42 U.S.C. § 6973), and a State of Illinois claim under Section 22.2(a) of the Environmental Protection Act (415 ILCS 5/22.2(a) (1996)) against 618 parties who have executed binding certifications of their consent to the settlement.

The settlement requires the settling parties to pay a total of $4,029,002.91 to the Hazardous Substances Superfund, Lenz Oil Services, Inc., Special Account. In addition, the settlement requires the settling parties to reimburse the State of Illinois a total of $1,240,446.20 for costs incurred relating to past response actions relating to the site. Each settling party is required to pay an amount based upon the volume of waste that party contributed to the site; except as to twelve parties, who are paying a lesser amount which is based upon an analysis of their ability to pay the settlement.

Written comments regarding this proposed settlement should be sent to: Docket No. V-W-98-C-440, Stuart P. Hersh, Associate Regional Counsel, (C-14J), USEPA, Region V, 77 West Jackson

Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois 60604. Comments must be received by November 27, 1998. The proposed settlement, including the list of 618 settling parties, may be obtained by writing Mr. Hersh at the USEPA.

United States Environmental Protection Agency
Adopts Final Rule to Ensure that Facilities that Receive Household Hazardous Waste or Conditionally Exempt Small Quantity Generator
Hazardous Waste are in Compliance with Revised Criteria Promulgated Under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act

On October 23, 1998, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA), pursuant to Sections 2002(a)(1) and 4005(c) of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) (42 U.S.C. §§ 6912(a)(1), 6945(c)), adopted regulations requiring states to develop and implement a permit program or other system of prior approval to ensure that facilities that receive household hazardous waste or conditionally exempt small quantity generator hazardous waste are in compliance with the federal revised criteria promulgated under Section 4010(c) of RCRA (42 U.S.C. §6949a). Section 4005(c)(1)(C) further directs the USEPA to determine whether state permit programs are adequate to ensure compliance with the revised federal criteria. Section 2002(a)(1) of RCRA authorizes the USEPA to promulgate regulations necessary to carry out the functions of RCRA. The USEPA expects that the regulated entities include state governments requesting full or partial approvals of permit programs or other systems of prior approval, or revisions to existing fully or partially approved programs. These rules are effective November 23, 1998.

The Board anticipates that it will incorporate these amendments into Board regulations by way of an identical-in-substance rulemaking pursuant to Section 7.2 of the Environmental Protection Act (415 ILCS 5/7.2 (1996)). ◆
