I am a retired Science teacher. I have allergies that have continually gotten worse and leading to asthma. 2 of our children have asthma but the one who moved to Colorado is no longer being bothered. Definitely air pollution is contributing. We live in New Lenox by Rt 80. The trucks and traffic is never ending.
So we have converted to electric stove, solar panels and an electric car. We are doing our part to help. (And saving a lot of gas money).
What we need are strong regulations on the amount of pollution that cars and trucks can put out. We need more electric trucks and cars.

Sincerely,
Sharon White
