Dear Board Members

I wish to express my alarm at having a "Peaker Power Plant," in my area, due to the high possibility of air pollution, within an 8 mile radius of the plant.

I know that I don't have to explain about "acid rain" and what a "killer" it is to all living animal, vegetable or mineral. There are enough SUVs, along with mini vans and trucks to mix with the emissions of the plant to cause "acid rain" and create respiratory problems, affect crop production, erode solids like paint and rock and severely pit metals; possibly creating disasters for this area in order to supply electricity for other states to waste.

Maybe we should seriously start conserving our resources instead of plundering them.
