ORDER OF THE BOARD (by T.A. Holbrook):

On December 30, 2011, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (Agency) filed a recommendation (Rec.) that the Board certify certain facilities of Logan Agri Service, Inc. - Griggsville (petitioner) as “pollution control facilities” for preferential tax treatment under the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/11-5 et seq. (2010)). These facilities are described as a concrete containment facility for bulk liquid storage tanks and a building with concrete containment for truck loading and unloading at petitioner’s operation located at Route 107 South, Griggsville, Pike County. Rec. at 1. In an order dated January 5, 2012, the Board certified that these specified facilities are pollution control facilities, as recommended by the Agency. Logan Agri Service, Inc. - Griggsville (Property ID No. 43-033-07) v. IEPA, PCB 12-97 (Jan. 5, 2012).

In the same filing, however, the Agency recommended denial of tax certification of 13 bulk liquid storage tanks because their primary purpose “is to hold bulk liquids for storage purposes” and not primarily to eliminate, reduce, or prevent water pollution. Rec. at 1-2.

Petitioner had 35 days from when it was served with a copy of the Agency’s recommendation to contest that recommendation to deny certification to the Board. 35 Ill. Adm. Code 125.206. Any petition for review was due to be filed on or before February 3, 2012. The Board has not received a petition for review and therefore declines to certify the 13 bulk liquid storage tanks as pollution control facilities as defined in Section 11-10 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/11-10 (2010)). Having certified the appropriate portions of the facility as a “pollution control facility” and having received no appeal of the Agency’s recommendation to deny certification of specified facilities, the Board closes the docket.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

I, John T. Therriault, Assistant Clerk of the Illinois Pollution Control Board, certify that the Board adopted the above order on March 15, 2012, by a vote of 5-0.
