Mike:

I completed my review of R15-1.

All I could find was a simple typo. This typo appears in 724.171(j). (in you printed version that you sent out it would be on page 187, line 6) The sentence reads USEPA has stete that it would....
You need to add a d to the word state making it stated.

Other than that (which incidentally does not affect the rule), the docket is good.

Upcoming:

Two rules were signed by the administrator in December. The Definition of Solid Waste on December 10, and the Coal Combustion rule on December 19. Neither has been published yet. The DSW will be Rule Revision 233, and the Coal Combustion will probably not receive a number as it will likely fall into Subtitle D.

Have a happy new year Mike.

Gary W.
